

DAVID KUEHN
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
COTUIT CENTER FOR THE ARTS

David Kuehn is the Executive Director of Cotuit Center for the Arts. Since assuming the position in March of 2010 he has spearheaded an initiative to help introduce new patrons to one of Cape Cod's undiscovered gems. The Center is a vibrant community arts center with evolving theater, music, art and educational programs.

Previously David held a wide variety of positions in the classical music industry over the past 25 years, including retail, distribution, sales, marketing, PR and A & R. David has also been active in the Cape Cod real estate market since 2003 specializing in the marketing of luxury properties for Kinlin Grover real estate.

A native of Indiana, he left the heartland in 1979 for the California gold coast and a degree in music performance from UCLA. David's passion for and experience in all art forms was rooted during his early days in California where he played in Daniel Lentz' ensemble. In Los Angeles David worked in the scene with such visionaries as Philip Glass, John Adams, Keith Haring, David Hockney, Dan Flavin, Franco Assetto and more. In 1993 he hopped back over the Midwest en route to NYC where he eventually ran the classical music division of RCA records. During that time he and his partner purchased a home in Yarmouth Port. Cape Cod became their permanent residence in 2000.

He is a former Chairman and current member of the advisory board of the GALE fund, sits on the Board of the Community Leadership Institute of Cape Cod and has volunteered for several organizations on the Cape.
