

SHARON BROWN
CHIEF CREATIVE OFFICER
HAMMERHEAD CREATIVES

Sharon Brown is the Chief Creative Officer and Co-Owner of Hammerhead Creatives. Sharon and her business partner, Heather Jackson decided to put their talents together and started Hammerhead Creatives in 2007. They both had experience in the logo'd apparel & promotional products business but wanted to add great service and creative ideas to help their clients promote themselves effectively.

Sharon Brown was raised in Everett, Massachusetts, the youngest of nine children. Sharon moved to Cape Cod in January 1985 and attended Cape Cod Community College while living in Marstons Mills. In 1986, Sharon was offered a position with Merrill Lynch in Hyannis, and while she was playing on the company softball team, Sharon met her husband, Dean Brown, a native Cape Codder. Sharon and Dean married a year later and have three children. Krista is a licensed massage therapist and esthetician, and her sons, Dylan, and Jake, are both currently attending Penn State University.

While raising her children, Sharon has held many volunteer positions with various organizations. It has always been important to her to be involved with her children's schooling and activities. She has worked for different companies over the years but her family has always been her first priority.

Sharon is currently on the board of directors for the Otis Civilians' Advisory Council and the Cotuit Firecracker 5K Road Race Committee. She is also Co-Chair of the Cotuit Highground Scholarship Tournament Committee.

Sharon enjoys golfing at Cotuit Highground in her time off which is where she met her good friend and business partner, Heather Jackson, several years ago.
